TO THE ELECTORS.

Of the Red Deer Federal Riding.

Red Deer, Alta., Sept. 6, 1926.
Ladies and Gentlemen:

Having received the unanimous nomination as U.F.A. candidate in this riding, and having been unable, owing to the state of the roads, and my own previous ill-health, to meet with many of you personally, I am taking this opportunity of addressing you.

While acting as your representative in the past I have endeavored to advance the interests of this riding, and to co-operate with others in the solution of our national problems.

I have to the best of my judgement and ability, urged and supported such measures as would promote community welfare and Dominion-wide prosperity.

If again honored with your confidence, I shall continue in my advocacy and support of the policies which I have always felt to be essential in the development of this country.

A fiscal policy which, while preventing unfair and ruinous competition, would not permit the exploitation of the consumer, nor hamper or restrict our International trade.

A continuance of the Crow's Nest legislation which has brought about a partial equalization of our freight rates.

Rural credits, and the revaluation of loans made to our Soldier Settlers.

Legislative and administrative action when necessary in maintaining and extending our systems of co-operative marketing.

Old age pensions and the development of the Canadian market for Canadian coal.

I believe these matters can be satisfactorily dealt with when, and not till when, we treat them as business problems and not as political issues, and further, that stability of government can only be established on a basis of sound policy and co-operative action.

If my views meet with your approval, and my past record merits your confidence, I ask you to again support me on September 14, and to remember that the most effective expression of your good will is the vote which you cast.

Yours faithfully,
ALFRED SPEAKMAN.

New Spring Wheat Grown at Ottawa

A new hard spring wheat which gives promise of being even better than either Marquis or Garnet, is being tested at the Canadian government experimental farm at Ottawa.

The name of this new variety, it was learned is "Reward" which, according to tests made in recent years and are still being carried on, will ripen 10 days earlier than Marquis.

It is also believed "Reward" will have equally as good milling qualities, and will give even heavier yields because of heavier weight. Measured bushels of Reward, which have been grown in Ottawa, weigh as high as 66 pounds.

Farmers Suffer Enormous Loss

According to a bulletin recently issued by the Saskatchewan Department of Agriculture, weeds will cost the farmers of the Province more than thirty million dollars this year, in the decreased yield due to weeds, in the increased cost of harvesting and threshing their grain, in dockage and freight on weeds shipped with the grain to Fort William or Vancouver.

This year when conditions have been so favorable for the growth of grain, they have been equally favorable for the growth of weeds, and sections of Saskatchewan have many square miles of crops grown on some of the richest soil in the Province which have been so yellow with mustard that hardly a blade of wheat could be seen. Wild oats have been worse than ever this year, so this is steadily widening the area where it is a thorn in the side of the farmer, and stink weed is flourishing like the proverbial green bay tree.

If to a thirty million dollar loss for Saskatchewan alone, the losses for Manitoba and Alberta are added, the total loss for the three Prairie Provinces will be between fifty and sixty million at least, easily constituting the heaviest charge levied on Western agriculture. Half losses have been heavier than usual this year, but they do not begin to approach the losses sustained by farmers through weeds.

For a quarter of a century or more Western farmers have been waging a battle for lower freight rates. They have won notable victories in this regard, not the least of which was the obtaining in the first instance of the Crow's Nest Pass rates on grain and their restoration after they had been abrogated during the war. But the estimated savings to the farmers of the three Prairie Provinces through the Crow's Nest Pass Agreement, running as they do into millions of dollars annually, do not equal the losses sustained by the farmers of Saskatchewan alone through weeds.

A reduction in the Customs tariff on agricultural implements and machinery, or on any one of the many articles necessary to the farmer, is hailed with pleasure as a real relief to the agricultural producer. The practical wiping out of the Income Tax so far as farmers are concerned, the reduction of the postage rate from three cents to two, and other legislative enactments reducing the burden of taxation, are rightly regarded as important in assisting to make farming and all industry more profitable. But these savings are small in comparison to the millions of dollars that would be left in the pockets of Western farmers through a vigorous, persistent, successful fight all along the line against noxious weeds.

The whole country gets stirred up in an election campaign where tax reduction policies are an issue. Farmers unite and organize to place candidates in the field pledged to tariff reductions, reduced freight rates, Rural Credits, and other measures calculated to advance their interests and prosperity. But all too many who wage battle for these lesser gains appear quite indifferent to the weed menace and its resultant heavy losses to themselves and the country at large. Many farmers who are enthusiastic, and organize and fight for those things which they can only obtain in co-operation with the other Provinces of Canada, yet display the most astounding apathy in dealing with a problem which is all their own, and the solution of which rests solely with themselves, working in co-operation with their next door neighbors.

The Saskatchewan Weed Bulletin just issued contains valuable information and guidance for farmers in dealing with their weed problem. It is written in clearly understandable, non-technical language, and every Saskatchewan farmer who has a weed problem on his hands should send to the Department of Agriculture, Regina, for a copy of this Bulletin, while farmers in Manitoba and Alberta should likewise communicate with their Provincial Departments of Agriculture for similar literature.

The Saskatchewan Bulletin states that the greatest source of the weed trouble is found in dirty seed, and it has been proven that quite a large number of farmers who cultivate their soil carefully to destroy weed seeds already existing in the ground, are actually returning the same plant criminals to the soil through weed seeds contained in their seed grain, thus rendering all their toil and labor for naught, perpetuating the problem, and keeping up the loss.

Co-operation amongst Western farmers is accomplishing great things for them and for Canada, and co-operation is capable of achieving even greater things in the years to come. Possibly in no one way can more be accomplished than by each individual farmer enlisting in the war on weeds, and waging it aggressively in season and out on his own land, and in co-operation with his neighbors and municipal officials throughout the whole district in which he resides.

Unlike other wars, which always end in losses for both victor and vanquished, a successful war on weeds means great gains and larger profits throughout the years to come. Let's fight!

Sam: Yassah, boss, we all would 'a' had a terrible fracas, only they wasn't nobody there to hold us apart.

Stabilization of Rural Land Values

By C. W. Peterson

No public issue has been the victim of more platitudes than that of immigration on platform and in press. In Canada there seems to be no intelligent public opinion on the question, and our economic groups are consequently hopelessly divided on the issue. Added population merely spells further unemployment to the labor group, and increased competition to the farmer. Hence, we frequently find our great rural organizations unfriendly and even officially antagonistic towards any effort to augment Canada's population.

Public Apathy

An intelligent study of the population question leaves one in no doubt, that lasting agricultural prosperity is not possible without the steady, progressive colonization and development of our extensive vacant spaces by real agricultural settlers. The realization of such a programme would, however, involve a constructive and forward-looking colonization effort of a magnitude no government could safely contemplate today, in view of the apathetic state of average Canadian public opinion on the subject. The supertask confronting Canada at this moment, therefore, would appear to be to convince her own citizens of the wisdom of regarding the population question as the corner stone of all public policies, which, indeed, it is.

Agricultural Unrest

We have for almost a decade been confronted with the demoralizing spectacle of steadily receding rural land values all through Canada. This was the outcome of a combination of circumstances, but has been chiefly due to the cessation of immigration, coupled with the modern spectacular drift to the cities. Land values today, east and west, are at very low ebb, and many farmers have thus seen their chief asset shrink to such an extent that substantial equities have in some instances totally disappeared, representing the loss of the fruits of years of hard labor on the part of every member of the family.

The Agricultural Credit Structure

Land represents the principal borrowing asset of the farmer. Stable land values lie at the foundation of rural credit in practically all its forms. When land values become demoralized the whole agricultural credit structure is undermined. Credit of all sorts is curtailed and interest rates advanced. In fact, it may be laid down as an economic axiom, that a prosperous agriculture and a contented rural population are not within the possibilities with receding and unstable land values. The demoralizing effect in itself upon the farmer of the progressive shrinkage of his chief capital asset is bound to exercise a most unfortunate influence upon his state of mind and actions.

Restoring Agricultural Confidence

There is today a vast area of vacant lands on the market in the prairie section of Canada and improved farms are offered for sale in other provinces comparatively at bargain prices. The demand for such properties slackened perceptibly with the drying up of the stimulating flow of immigration some years ago. The settlement of the province of Ontario dates back as far as that of the Middle West of the United States. Yet land values in Iowa, Illinois and elsewhere are twice and three times as great as in Eastern Canada. Why? The Canadian farmer should be keenly interested in recreating a normal market for rural properties. A comparatively limited demand for land would quickly be reflected in strengthened values all round and the moral effect would be electrical. Urban business would automatically benefit through such a restoration of agricultural confidence. Our farmers have, therefore, a vital interest in the inauguration of vigorous and comprehensive policies by the various governments and railways designed to promote the actual colonization of vacant agricultural areas.

The Fine Art Of Carving

Lucky is the Man Who Has Mastered All Its Details

Carving is said to be an art that takes a man a lifetime to master. However that may be, there are good and bad carvers, and one is never so expert but that he may learn some new trick in carving a roast or fowl. There has recently been published a valuable and most entertaining little booklet, entitled "The Fine Art of Carving," which deals with this subject. In addition to giving details regarding the proper methods to be used in carving roasts, joints, fish and fowl, there are also valuable hints for the housewife on how to properly prepare a roast of meat of any kind. The booklet is well illustrated in colors showing how to select the best joints of meat, and how to carve. There is also good advice on how to reduce your meat bill, and how to roast meat without loss from shrinkage, and a great deal of other valuable information. Copies of this booklet may be obtained free of charge by any Canadian householder. Our readers would be well advised to write to the Sheet Metal Products Co. of Canada, Limited, Toronto, or to branch offices at Winnipeg, Calgary, Edmonton or Vancouver, and obtain this valuable booklet, "The Fine Art of Carving," which will be mailed absolutely free of charge.

THE GROWING GIRL

Requires a Mother's Constant Care and Watchfulness

In their early teens it is quite common for girls to outgrow their strength, and mothers should carefully watch the health of their daughters at this time, for it is when strength is sapped by too rapid growth that anaemia develops. The first signs may be noticed by peevishness, languor and headaches. The face grows pale, breathlessness and palpitation follow, with low spirits.

At the first symptom of anaemia mothers should act at once. Neglected anaemia often leads to decline, but if you see that your daughter's blood is enriched there need be no cause for anxiety. The finest blood enricher ever discovered is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The pure, red blood created by these pills will quickly banish all signs of anaemia. They will build up your girl's health and ensure her a robust girlhood. Give your daughter a course of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills now. Make her strong like thousands of girls and women throughout Canada who have been rescued from the clutches of anaemia by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

HALIFAX MAY BECOME A GRAIN SHIPPING PORT

Montreal.—Halifax may become a grain port, shipping some five or six million bushels of grain per season, if three loading berths are provided for the present elevator instead of the one berth there now. This was held out as a definite probability by representatives of the Canadian Wheat Pool at the royal commission investigating Maritime Provinces' matters.

The port, as provided for now, however, was presented in very drab colors so far as grain was concerned. It had not sufficient berth accommodation, steamer space was lacking, the experience of the pool in shipping some million bushels through there in the past year had not been favorable, and it was not known as a grain port.

D. L. Smith, general sales manager, and Albert Claire, traffic representative in Montreal, were the witnesses appearing for the Wheat Pool and they were subjected to close examination by the commission chairman, Sir Andrew Rae Duncan.

Five or six million bushels was given by Mr. Smith as the probable limit for the present to which Halifax could be used owing to the lack of liners making their terminals there. Some 70 per cent. of the pool's wheat went liner space, this type of accommodation being especially good because of the small lot buying done in Europe.

France Near Breaking Point With Russia

Trouble Arose Over Soviets Action Regarding Moscow Fair

Paris.—A controversy which may result in France breaking off relations with the Soviet of Russia is going on between Premier Raymond Poincaré and Commissar Christian Rakovsky and is becoming more embittered daily. The trouble arose when the reds placarded Paris with posters announcing a gigantic international fair in Moscow the last of March, urging the French manufacturers to send their exhibits to be represented.

A number of concerns here leased stalls and show grounds through the commercial attaché's bureau of the Soviet embassy, prepared the products for shipment to Russia to show at the fair and arranged their personnel to proceed to Moscow to take charge of the exhibits and take orders for the wares.

The Soviet Government then refused to grant passport visas or import licenses, so that the exhibitors were unable to participate. When the firms asked for reimbursement of the money paid in advance, the Soviets refused.

Vancouver Showing Rapid Development

Owes Much to Prairies Says President Of C.P.R.

Vancouver, B.C.—"British Columbia is more than realizing the progress prophesied for it during recent years, and Vancouver especially is developing rapidly. One of the contributing causes to the development is undoubtedly the improved conditions on the prairies during the past three years, and where this year, a better than average crop is practically assured." These were the statements made by E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, on his annual tour of inspection of the company's lines.

"No final estimate with regard to prairie crop have been made by the company as yet," continued Mr. Beatty, "but if weather conditions remain satisfactory for the next few weeks, I would be surprised if the total yield were less than 375,000,000 bushels."

Liberal Leader In Nova Scotia

Final Week of Campaign to be Spent in Ontario

Antigonish, N.S.—Surpluses in the public accounts, reductions in taxation, old age pensions and the constitutional issue were the matters dealt with by Mr. Mackenzie King here.

"What about Wall Street," called out someone who looked in through a window of the rink building for a moment.

"Isn't that a fine example of Tory tactics?" asked Mr. King.

"This fly-by-night shoves his head in a window, shouts and runs away."

Mr. King proceeded to say that the country as a whole prospered from the removal of considerable taxation this year.

The Liberal leader has concluded his campaign in Nova Scotia. In Port Hawkesbury, on Cape Breton Island, a terrific downpour drove the crowd to the town hall. Here in Antigonish-Guyaboro constituency the crowd filled the curling rink at the meeting. Mr. King will hold two meetings on Prince Edward Island and he will start west again, stopping at Campbellton in New Brunswick and New Carlisle in Quebec.

The final week of the campaign will be spent in Ontario.

To Analyze Minerals Of Saskatchewan

No Gold Found In North Says Mining Engineer

Regina.—Completing a survey of the Lac la Ronge mineral area in Northern Saskatchewan, W. H. Hastings, mining engineer of the Saskatchewan bureau of labor and industries, has returned with several hundred pounds of samples for analysis.

Some of the minerals are: Pyrite, magnetite, copper sulphide, glass sand, fire clay, iron sand, coal and pyrrhotite. Several copper claims have been staked in the Sturgeon-Weir Rivers district.

Lack of transportation, said Mr. Hastings, was one of the chief problems in the opening up of the northern resources. Another was the failure to find silver or gold, the most valuable of the minerals, and prospectors fought shy of less valuable claims.

Contest In Prince Albert

Hon. Mackenzie King Will Be Opposed By J. E. Diefenbaker

Prince Albert, Sask.—Rt. Hon. W. L. M. King, leader of the Liberal party, will be opposed by J. E. Diefenbaker, Conservative, unsuccessful candidate in the election of 1925.

In a three-cornered contest last October, Mr. Diefenbaker was opposed by Charles MacDonald, the successful Liberal candidate and Andrew Knox, Progressive. The vote was: MacDonald, 5,301; Diefenbaker, 2,412; Knox, 2,638.

Mr. MacDonald later resigned to make way for Mr. King, then premier, and in a by-election held Feb. 26, 1926, the Liberal leader defeated Captain D. L. Burgess, Independent, by a large majority. The vote was: Mr. King, 7,920; Capt. Burgess, 2,209.

Thousands Take Part In Diamond Rush

Population In Transvaal District Increased Overnight By Fifty Thousand

Johannesburg.—South Africa's latest diamond rush brought 15,000 persons, including 120 women in full running kit or bathing costumes, to a farm in the Transvaal district. Prospectors in one of the fields have already found diamonds worth $180,000.

Among the sprinters were several runners with good track records. One syndicate employed 30 university athletes as runners.

More than 25,000 claims were pegged out and the population of the district was increased from a few hundred to about 50,000 almost overnight.

Ammunition Seized In Mexico

Nogales, Ariz.—Twenty-five thousand rounds of ammunition have been seized by Mexican customs authorities in Nogales, Sonora, Mexico, across the border line from here. The ammunition was found in a touring car, driven by a man named Norosco, who is being held for a preliminary hearing.

NO CHANGE IN U.S. DEBT POLICY SAYS COOLIDGE

Paul Smiths, N.Y.—President Coolidge knows of no reason for making any change in the government policy toward the foreign war-time debts owed the United States.

All the great powers, with one exception, it was added, had funded their debts to the United States and it is apparent to Mr. Coolidge that France will adjust its debts in accordance with the agreement reached by its duly authorized representatives with United States officials.

The president, it was said, respects the sincerity, judgment and patriotism of Mr. Baker, yet he realizes it is sometimes easier for a person in private life who is no longer charged with the responsibility of administering public affairs, to suggest large expenditures of the taxpayers' money or payment of it out of the taxpayers' pockets.

Automobile Fatalities

Autos Have Killed 3,603 People In 78 U. S. Cities Since Beginning Of Year

Washington.—Automobiles have killed 3,603 persons in 78 of the country's large cities since the first of this year.

The greatest number of fatalities occurred in the four weeks ending June 19, when 549 were killed, according to figures gathered by the department of commerce covering four week periods.

For the four weeks ending Aug. 14 this year, the last reported, there were 497 fatalities, an increase over the same period last year, when 467 deaths occurred.

From May to December last year, the total number of automobile fatalities was 4,345, making a total from that time to August 14 this year of 7,948.

No Monopoly Of Union Jack

Hon. J. H. Thomas Speaks at Luncheon in Toronto

Toronto.—Saying that with a general election pending and that for that reason he would refrain from discussing politics and thus disappoint the press, Hon. J. H. Thomas, who was colonial secretary in the MacDonald Labor Government, delivered an address at the exhibition directors' luncheon here.

"No greater mistake was ever made," he said, "than to assume that the Union Jack, which has stood for Democratic Government and for the most Democratic constitution, is the monopoly of any class or creed."

Says Conservative Star Rising

Premier Meighen Addresses Large Gathering in Montreal

Montreal.—Six to seven thousand people were assembled in the Forum when Premier Meighen addressed a meeting here. On the platform were distinguished visitors from every part of Canada. Sir Alfred Mond, member of Great Britain's cabinet under Lloyd George, was there with Lady Mond.

Premier Meighen received a great ovation. Different groups in the big hall gave him their songs and cheers. He began in French. His voice was hoarse at first, but steadied after a few minutes. He expressed confidence in the success of his party in the coming elections.

"The Conservative star is rising from the Atlantic to the Pacific," he said. Mr. Meighen spoke for about fifteen minutes in French.

Relapsing into English he said he must review within the compass of a single hour, problems which presented themselves for solution.

Mr. Meighen took up what he described as "the most vital of all topics, the tariff."

His fiscal policy, he said, was not different tonight from what it had always been.

"A stable tariff on a definite basis," was the policy of the Conservative party, he said, and having established a tariff he would "leave it there and give Canada a chance to grow."

"There will be no bargains made at the expense of the fundamental interests of Canada for the purpose of votes in the House of Commons," he added.

Moving Western Crop

Grain Movement From the West Is Now Under Way

Winnipeg.—The task of moving the annual grain crop of Western Canada has begun. The grain movement report of the car service department of the C.N.R. for August 30 shows 436 cars, loaded with 560,000 bushels, which is almost double that of the last report, August 28. Grain marketed totals 846,000 bushels and an increase of 278,000 bushels in storage at country elevators is also noted. The total now in storage in such elevators on the lines of the system amounts to 1,191,000. Most of the movement is taking place in Manitoba where shipping is well advanced, but the report also specifies a shipment of new grain from railrage 1819 on the Oyen subdivision of the Alberta district for Port Arthur and a similar shipment from the same point to Vancouver.

German Immigrants Top U. S. List

Washington, D.C.—Immigration quota figures, issued by the state department, show that the largest number of visas so far this fiscal year, which began July 1, have been issued to immigrants from Germany, with the Irish Free State second in the list, and Great Britain and Northern Ireland third.

ONE CANDIDATE IS ELECTED BY ACCLAMATION

Ottawa.—The election of U. P. Beaubien, Liberal-Progressive candidate in Provencher, Man., featured nominations in the 27 constituencies requiring additional time for voting arrangements. The election of Mr. Beaubien was due to the inability of representatives of his Conservative opponent, Dr. D. H. McFadden, to fill their candidate's papers before nominations closed as a result of muddy roads. Mr. Beaubien was elected as Progressive candidate last fall by a majority of 110.

Twenty-three straight party contests and three three-cornered fights will be held for the remaining 26 ridings. In Quebec, Saskatchewan and Yukon Territory straight party fights will be waged for all the seats. Three-cornered fights will be waged in Port Arthur-Thunder Bay, Peace River, Alta., and Springfield, Man.

Fifty-seven candidates in all were nominated. These include 25 Conservatives, 17 straight Liberals, 3 Liberal-Progressives, 1 Liberal-Labor, 1 Liberal-Labor-Progressive, 1 Liberal-Independent-Labor, 1 Progressive, 3 U.F.A., 4 Labor and 1 Independent.

Hail Insurance Rate Increased

Directors Municipal Association Decide On Extra Levy

Regina.—An extra levy of 14 cents per seeded acre in addition to the usual flat rate of 4 cents an acre on all land under the municipal hail insurance scheme was decided on by the directors of the Saskatchewan Municipal Hail Insurance Association at a recent meeting.

The heavy losses of the season so far, which to date amount to $1,266,000, were given as the reason for the additional levy. There is still a few days to run before the liability of the association ceases and to meet this a further $60,000 was provided. Thus, a total of $1,326,000 is to be collected from the farmers in municipalities subscribing to the scheme.

Of the individual municipalities in the association the one suffering the heaviest loss was Marquis with a total of $151,000.

British House Adjourns

Amendment For Meeting Earlier Than November 9 Was Defeated

London.—A government motion that, when the House of Commons adjourned Aug. 31, it rise until November 9, was adopted by the house by a vote of 225 to 100.

Ramsay MacDonald, Labor leader, moved to amend, by substituting the date September 7, in view of meetings of the miners' delegate congress, after which he said the government might be able to get the two sides together.

Winston Churchill replied the government was perfectly free to summon parliament at any time conditions warranted.

The emergency regulations in view of the coal strike were continued for another month at last night's session.

Less Crime In Britain

Present Respect For Law In England Never Exceeded

Quebec.—Quebec welcomed to Canada Right Hon. Lord Darling, who has come on the invitation of the Canadian Bar Association, to address that organization during its annual convention, which will be held at St. John, N.B.

Asked if crime was on the increase or showed a tendency towards decreasing as compared with a few years ago, Lord Darling said he thought that as a whole the English people's respect for the laws of the land had never been as great as it was at present.

Britain May Oppose Mineowners

London.—Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill, chancellor of the exchequer, in an unusually temperate speech intimated, in the house, that the government might support a national settlement of the coal strike, even against the wishes of the mineowners, if the workers would be reasonable on the question of wages and hours.

Mrs. Mjolsness was a visitor to Calgary over the holiday.

Mrs. W. J. McCoy returned last Sunday from a visit to Ontario.

Mr. James Clarke, formerly of Chambers Drug store, spent Labor Day visiting old friends.

Mrs. A. W. Axtell, who underwent an operation some little time ago, is reported to be getting along fine.

Thorvald Larsen, L.A.B., will take over the pupils of Miss Norma Chamberlain, L.A.B., commencing September 11th. For further information enquire at Mr. J. Huget's, Didsbury.

Labor Day in Didsbury was spent very quietly, the wet weather of the past week forbidding any outside recreation.

Rev. Mr. Hayes of the Didsbury United church, will preach next Sunday, September 12th, at the Lone Pine community hall at three p.m. Everybody welcome. Sunday school as usual at two p.m.

"The Limited Mail," one of the most spectacular pictures placed upon the screen, will be shown at the Didsbury Opera House on Wednesday, September 15th. Its a hair raiser.

The W.C.T.C. will meet at the home of Mrs. James Clark, on Wednesday, September 15th. A good program is being prepared and all members and friends are urged to be present.

Miss Ann Whiteside has gone to Lethbridge where she has been engaged as special art teacher in one of the public schools.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Studer returned on Tuesday from a holiday trip to Sylvan Lake and Edmonton.

Miss Winnifred Studer, who has been spending a week with Miss Beatrice Kendrick, left Monday for Calgary where she will enter Mount Royal college for the coming year.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Merton spent Labor Day at Lacombe visiting Mrs. Merton's parents.

Election Day.

Judging from the tranquility of the public mind at the present time, one who was otherwise unaware of the fact, would never suspect that next Tuesday, September 14th, is election day. Quiet as it may seem, however, and calm though be the mind of the elector, there are issues involved which compels one to realise his responsibilities.

In this constituency the contest is limited by the abstention of the Liberal party to a straight fight between Mr. Speakman, the Progressive, and Mr. La France, Conservative.

Mr. Speakman has already proven himself to be thoroughly conscientious and in the discharge of his duties at Ottawa has shown a fearlessness and an independence of spirit which has raised him above party bickering and strife and has imbued his supporters with a true sense of his value.

He was elected in the last election largely by those interested, directly or indirectly (and who among us in an agricultural community is not included among the latter) in agriculture, and one looks in vain for any reason that would indicate a reverse.

Mr. La France has many friends undoubtedly, and although a comparative stranger, politically at any rate, to Didsbury, he is reported to have shown an enviable activity in duties of public nature in his home town.

The choice now lies entirely in the hands of the voter, and the privilege of voting for one or the other should not be lightly considered. More than a privilege, however, it is one of our duties of Canadian citizenship, and it is a duty which every voter should feel himself compelled to perform.

Mrs. J. W. Phillipson and son Donald returned home this week from a visit with friends in Winnipeg.

Mrs. Wilton-Clark, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Liesemer, returned to Coleman on Friday last. Mrs. Liesemer accompanied her daughter as far as Calgary.

Another excellent picture has been secured for the Didsbury Opera house on Saturday, September 11th in "Say it Again." Don't miss this. On Tuesday, September 14th (election day) there will be a dance in the evening, when the returns of the election will also be announced.

Ancient and Modern Meet in Rockies

Upper—Leather spring coach used to travel in Rockies, before the motor car age.
Lower Right—Motor car of 1902, used in the Canadian Rockies.

As the evening shadows began to lengthen across the Bow Valley in the Canadian Rockies on the last day of May, a diminutive time-worn, rust-bitten, two cylinder motor car of 1902 vintage chugged through the portals of the Rockies into Banff, there to join the throng of motor cars on Banff Avenue and unwittingly form a historic pageant indicating the developments in motor transportation during twenty-four years.

As it happens at such times, the shades of the past arise to refresh the memories of old-timers and bring forth reminiscences indicating the progress made within recent years. And so with the shades of the past evoked by one of the first "horseless carriages," mingling with its glittering brothers of the modern age.

When it too glittered with newness the mountain valleys knew not the odor of gasoline and the ordered roar of the exhaust, the old-timer onlookers said. No fine pavements such as at present grace the streets of the famous mountain resort, smoothed out the irregularities. The dirt surface of Banff Avenue knew only pedestrian, saddle and pack-ponies, and the iron tired wheels of the lumbering leather spring coach, used as the first sight-seeing vehicle in the Rockies.

In 1916, the Canadian Government opened the park gates to motor travel. In 1925, the motor sight-seeing equipment, used to carry passengers by motor through the Rockies from the Banff Springs Hotel to the chain of other Canadian Pacific railway hotels and bungalow camps, numbered a hundred modern motor cars and sight seeing busses. In 1926, the system carried 220,000 passengers a total of approximately a million miles in three of Canada's mountain national parks. Thirty-six thousand motor cars, carrying 126,000 holidayers, passed through the gates of the Kootenay and Banff National Parks during the same season.

On June 16, the new Lake Louise to Field Highway was opened to the motorist, uniting the three national parks by motor road and increasing the grand total of modern highway in the mountains to approximately 230 miles. But when the diminutive motor vehicle was the latest creation in automobiles, the mileage of roads in the mountains could be counted on the fingers of both hands.

The day following its arrival in Banff, R. Stacey, Kelso, Washington, filled the gas tank of the 1902 car and set out over the Banff-Windermere Highway enroute for home. He is driving the car from Edmonton, Alberta, where it recently won the first prize in the light car class of the old car contest conducted by the Edmonton Journal.

In crossing the two summits on the highway, a modern car was called into action to aid the ancient vehicle over the top. By afternoon it reached Radium Bungalow Camp at the south end of Kootenay National Park, where the owner called it a day after covering ninety miles.

New C.P.R. Cold Storage Cars

Under old conditions there was always a certain amount of risk in shipping fruit. The entry of dust or cinders, or the high temperature of the car, was frequently the cause of fruit becoming spoiled during transit. But under present conditions, fruit not only retains its coloring, freshness and firmness when it is shipped from one point to another, but it is actually improved.

For many months officials of the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Dominion Express have been carrying on experimental work with a new type of ventilated express car to be used in the handling of soft fruits by express to prairie points, and they have recently arrived at an entirely new method of ventilating express equipment, which is known as the "B. C. Ventilator."

This device allows the air to be received into the car through two spacious intakes located at the ends of the car at the roof, carried to the floor without decreasing in velocity and effectively distributed through the lower sections of the car. Three times a minute there is a complete change of air, 10,276 cubic feet of air per minute being recorded through the intakes and 9,522 through the exhausts.

The new type of ventilator was tested out under full load conditions this month, the car containing more than a thousand crates of strawberries, which were carried from Vancouver to Calgary in excellent condition. At the end of the journey not a single speck of dust could be found on top of the boxes, and the average temperature of the car was 8 to 10 degrees lower than the outside air, during the entire trip. The strawberries arrived in perfect condition and the new type car is expected to greatly help the fruit-growing industry of British Columbia inasmuch as it opens up the entire prairie district to that trade.

Canadian Pacific Express Company

Dominion Express Company Now No Longer Known By That Name

After forty-four years of operation during which it has grown up with the country and contributed in no small way to Canadian development, the Dominion Express Company will no longer be known by that name. After September first that great transportation agency will be known as the Canadian Pacific Express Company. In all parts of Canada and the United States and throughout the civilized world signs on the windows of the many hundreds of branch offices will be changed, and thus will be forged a still closer link with the great parent company whose railroad, steamships and hotels are known around the world.

To mark the change of name the company has issued an attractive little booklet giving a short history of its career and a synopsis of its present widespread activities. The Dominion Express Company was incorporated in 1873, but it was in 1882 that Mr. Van Horne, then president of the C.P.R., took it over as an operating part of the Canadian Pacific Railway. H. G. A. Kirkpatrick, later Sir George Kirkpatrick, I. G. Gov. of Ontario, was its president, and Mr. W. S. Stout, a young but thoroughly experienced express man became its superintendent. Mr. Stout is today president and has for many years guided its fortunes in that capacity.

For some years he and his assistants had a hard and uphill fight, they not only moved traffic, but helped create it by finding Canadian and foreign markets for Canadian products, and by scientific rate making encouraging the farmer, fruit grower and others whose markets were far away. The growth of the company over these many years is an interesting story and it is an important chapter in the commercial history of this country and its present position where it is daily entrusted with hundreds of millions of dollars in goods and treasure by the public, business institutions and the government is a matter for justifiable pride. The booklet is handsomely illustrated and is being widely distributed wherever the company operates.

They do not cause any violent disturbances in the stomach, any pain or griping, but do their work quietly and painlessly, so that the destruction of the worms is imperceptible. Explanations and Comments

I. The Call For Contributions For the Sanctuary, Ex. 35:4-20.—Moses assembled the people and addressed them, probably from a raised platform. He reminded them that it was God's desire to have a sanctuary where he might meet them and they might offer him their worship. He called for voluntary contributions of materials and labor for the sanctuary and its equipment and for the vestments of the priests. There was one restriction: the givers of gifts must be "willing-hearted," and the laborers "wise-hearted." The people listened and quietly went back to their tents.

"You might have wondered whether they would return, since so little had been said to touch their emotions and arouse their enthusiasm. How different this seems to the methods in use today to extract money from reluctant hands!"

II. "An Old Subscription List," verses 21-29.—This heading is the happy title which Dr. Alexander MacLaren gives to his exposition of this chapter. "Let each man do according as he hath prospered in his heart," wrote Paul to the Corinthians; "not grudgingly or of necessity, for God loveth a cheerful giver." The men and women on this old subscription list fulfilled that injunction of Paul's. They came—a great crowd of willing givers, "every one whose heart stirred him up, and every one whom his spirit made willing," laden with gifts needed for the building of God's house and for "the holy garments," the garments consecrated for use in the sanctuary.

"The world asks, How much does he give, Christ asks, Why does he give?" (Dr. John R. Mott).

Moslem Laws Are Strict

New Ones Issued Carry Severe Penalty For Violators

New commandments have been issued by Ibn Saud, leader of the strict Wahabi sect of Moslems and now master of a big Arab kingdom which includes the holy cities of Mecca and Medina. Attendance at the prayer services on Friday—the Moslem Sabbath—is made compulsory, while violators of the temperance laws are liable to six months' imprisonment. Severe punishment is to be meted out to distillers or vendors of strong drink, a second offence being punishable by deportation. The use of tobacco is also an offence punishable with imprisonment, and anti-religious agitators will be severely dealt with. Public security officials have been given full authority to enforce these regulations.

"That," she retorted, "is the highball. Perhaps I had better change my brand of Scotch after all." But when Kenilworth had gone Yvonne dropped into the nearest chair. Had he returned and studied her, at any time during the next half hour, he would have concluded that there could be no doubt about it this time. She pondered.

It was late in the afternoon when Walker stood behind his mistress, who was serving tea to a small company of men and women around the same stone table, in the winter garden, on which Kenilworth had perched himself earlier in the day. "The mademoiselle who is expected has arrived," the butler murmured.

Yvonne rose at once. "I shall be back in time for a cigaret, at least," she added to her excuses. She crossed her drawing room, from its entrance into the winter garden, just in time to see Teddy Dorminster, the one who was born a lord but could persuade no one to consider the coincidence seriously, come to a standstill before the slight, girlish figure that stood directly in his path from the reception hall, where he had just turned over his coat and stick to Walker, across the room to the garden. Teddy Dorminster kept none of his secrets or his enthusiasms to himself. He brought a new store of both on his daily droppings in at Yvonne's—her's was, in a measure, a continuously open house when she was in town.

The newcomer stared into Joanna's face frankly. He fumbled in his pocket and produced his eye glass, which he carefully screwed into his eye. Then he scrutinized her again, utterly oblivious to her equally unabashed stare at him.

"Jove," young Dorminster exclaimed. "What a pretty girl!" Yvonne was in time to hear Joanna's reply:

"How in the world did you ever happen?"

CHAPTER XIV.

Across the Threshold

Both Joanna and Lord Teddy were startled by Yvonne's peal of laughter. "Now, Teddy, you know what everybody thinks when you're around," she declared. "You must really make up an answer some time." Turning to Joanna, she informed her: "He's not always so bad-mannered, you know. I fancy you'll get along famously. I'll present him as Lord Dorminster, but you must just call him Teddy—it fits him better." To the man, who struck Joanna as something of an overgrown youth, she added: "This is my new portiere, one I'm going to be very fond of. Miss Manners. After awhile you'll be calling her Joanna."

Lord Teddy was all embarrassment and contrition. "Oh, I say!" he fumbled. "I thought it would be someone who—ah—you were having to sing or dance, or do something like that, you know tomorrow night perhaps! Didn't know she was a friend. 'Sorry, terribly!'" even a Teddy sort of one, scrambled desperately for what she would have termed, confidently, the right comeback. She was disturbed, too, by that apology for supposing her as one who had come to sing, or to dance, "or something like that. It implied something," she didn't know what, but something about her that was not as it should be. Yvonne shot a frown at Dorminster and went to her rescue.

"Run along now, Teddy," she commanded. "There's tea or alcohol, whichever you prefer, in the garden. You know everybody in there. Miss Manners will remember, anyhow, that you were perfectly in earnest despite your rudeness."

He wanted to add something to his apology to straighten it out, but Yvonne hustled him off unceremoniously. To Joanna she said:

"He's a dear, is Teddy. He follows me around the world. He says wherever I am some husband's wife needs consolation and it's his duty to be on hand. And he declares he's perfectly sincere about it."

Laws For Pedestrians

Punishment For Vienna Citizens Who Violate New Rules

Under modifications in the municipal laws of Vienna, persons who talk, whistle or sing too loudly in the streets may be fined 30 cents. For repeated offences jail terms are provided.

If a person is detected reading a newspaper or book while walking along the street, thereby "impeding pedestrian traffic," he may be subjected to a similar fine.

Stopping a friend in the middle of a roadway, a carrying of packages of undue sizes and using bad or unseemly language, are among other punishable offences.

A Home Necessity

Speaking of valuable home remedies that every mother should always keep on hand, Nurse Carrington says: "I haven't met any preparation more dependable than 'Nerviline.' It is the ideal liniment; every drop rubs in—it is absorbed quickly, eases and relieves congestion in a short time. For chest colds, pain in the side, stiff neck, earache and toothache, I have found Nerviline invaluable. In treating the minor ills that arise in every home, nothing is more efficient than Nerviline."

Little Helps For This Week

Be still, and know that I am God.—Ps. xivl., 10.

Fret not, poor soul, while doubt and fear

Disturb thy breast;
The plying angels, who can see
How vain thy wild regret must be,
—Say, trust and rest.

Strive not; nor struggle; thy poor might

Can never wrest
The meaneast thing to serve thy will,
All power is His alone; be still,
And trust, and rest.

—Adeline Anne Proctor.

Do you know what Luther said? "Suffer and be still, and tell no man thy sorrow; trust in God. His help will not fail thee." This is what Scripture calls keeping silence before God. To talk much of one's sorrows makes one weak; but to tell one's sorrows to Him who heareth in secret, makes one strong and calm.—Tholuck.

A Child's Logic

Just at the time when Flossie's auntie, who was expected on a visit, should arrive, a boy with a telegram did so instead.

The telegram read: "Have missed train. Shall start at same time tomorrow."

There was something about the message which set Flossie thinking.

"What a silly auntie is!" she presently observed.

"Why, darling?" queried the mother.

"Well, if she starts at the same time tomorrow she'll miss her train again."

The Old-Fashioned Grandmother

London Newspaper Finds There Is No Such Person Now

A one-day's search by a London newspaper for the old-fashioned grandmother who is usually pictured as sitting quietly darning socks by the fireside, has failed completely. The inquirer compiled a list of seven grandmothers, and then set out to find out what they were doing.

No. 1 was in Paris buying frocks.

No. 2 had recently acquired a two-seater automobile and had driven up into the Midlands to see her son's sons.

No. 3 had gone into the country to make a political speech in her son's constituency.

No. 4 had gone to a matinee.

No. 5 was out buying some new valves for the radio set.

No. 6 was out getting her hair shingled.

No. 7 had gone to a tea dansant at a big hotel.

KEEP CHILDREN WELL
DURING HOT WEATHER

Every mother knows how fatal the hot summer months are to small children. Cholera infantum, diarrhoea, dysentery, colic and stomach troubles are rife at this time and often a precious little life is lost after only a few hours' illness. The mother who keeps Baby's Own Tablets in the house feels safe. The occasional use of the Tablets prevent stomach and bowel troubles, or if trouble comes suddenly—at it generally does—the Tablets will bring the baby safely through. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

"There!" the woman on the cushions exclaimed: "You are delightful again, as you always are when you're trapped. Now I shall sip my drink, if I may, while you proceed to your cross examination. See? I am careless of my wits; I expose them to the same whiskey."

"Satire becomes you, wonderfully," he said regarding her as with a deep sense of appreciation. "Some day a master painter will parody the Madonna with you as his model, and give the world a new masterpiece. Your lips are set just right for him, now. Presently I shall drink a toast especially to everything that isn't Madonna-like about you, since I can do that better than paint. Meanwhile, I admit to being curious. Mind you, only curious. What are you going to do with—or to—the girl?"

"Do you think an impulse of last night, born of my own thrill at the riot that must be going on in her mind, must necessarily be so definite as that? With some hidden motive behind it?"

He did not at once reply. His thoughts seemed to have wandered off for a moment. When he spoke again his tone had lost all veneer of banter. "I do not believe you ever surrendered to an impulse in your life," he said, his words studiously measured. "There can be nothing in common between you and this girl who has no other masque than her own natural vividness. She's more likely to be a thorn than a foil. So you have a motive as clearly defined as the pretense you are trying to bring into your eyes."

Yvonne treated him to her silvery laugh and would have interrupted him, but he went on, calmly; "Brandon is obviously playing a game. I am convinced that he knows where her money came from and why, despite his elusiveness. And I am convinced, too, that you do not, yet you deliberately spin a web for the girl and play spider to the fly. Why?"

"Jove," young Dorminster exclaimed, "what a pretty girl!"

If he thought to provoke the woman he cross examined, Kenilworth was disappointed. She studied him coolly. "I'm not so sure my whiskey dulled your wits after all," she observed. "You argue beautifully. I shall give you your triumph. I have a motive. As clearly defined as you picture it. As for the girl herself, I shall probably like her tremendously, though that is of no importance. And it doesn't follow, necessarily, that my motive means evil to her. That will be up to her."

"There's going to be quite a lot put up to her, I should imagine," Kenilworth agreed. "You simply give her an added problem. How does Brandon associate in your plotting?"

"Now, Roddy, I didn't guarantee to go into details. There aren't any, yet. You may be unperturbed, however. Brandon wanted me to ask her to come to me. He doesn't know why I consented—and you won't either, until you discover for yourself. Now then, I'm going to uncurl my legs and come out of my female Hindu goddess pose. It's becoming uncomfortable. So I shall be pondering evil no longer. You observe I do not ask you what your intentions are toward my ward, as I should, but that is because I'll see for myself. I know your procedure perfectly."

He gave her his hand and helped her to her feet. "I have a sense of being completely baffled," he remarked, ruefully. "I learn only what I already knew, and nothing more, except—"; suddenly his tone

H. E. Roppel, pastor

Following the Quarterly Conference and pre-communion service on Wednesday of this week, the Lord's Supper will be observed next Sunday evening.

In spite of inclement weather and awful roads the church was fairly well filled last Sunday evening with attentive listeners to the Labor Day sermon on Matt. 20:1, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man who went out to hire laborers." The principle of faithful labor and just reward, backed up by the spirit of the "Golden Rule," was stressed in the sermon as our only solution for the labor problem and unrest in the present social order of today.

This week has been one of special visitations at the Ev. parsonage. Those from a distance were Rev. L. H. Wagner, Regina, Sask.; Mr. Roy Thede of Port Elgin, Ont., who arrived here recently via harvesters' excursions. He is from Rev. Mr. Roppel's home town. Also some tourists, former acquaintances in Ontario, passing through here on an auto trip from Kitchener, Ont., to Edmonton, Alta. It is interesting to note that the trip was made this far in 10 days with only 15 cents expense on the car outside of regular requirements of gas and oil. Not even a tire was changed.

Note and Comment

"Christianity is a spirit, not a law. It is a set of principles, not a set of rules."
"It is a poor religion that is only regarded as a fire escape." Think it over.

"To think evil of anyone leaves a wrinkle on the brow."

KNOX UNITED CHURCH

The church of to-day is not vitally interested in international or industrial peace, but the church of to-morrow must give large place to these problems or cease to exist, said the minister in reporting Dr. Torwood's message to the congregation Sunday evening. But one may take courage when from small and large pulpits throughout the land the theme "Peace and good will" is being preached. The horrors of another war send a chill through us. War has passed the stage of mechanics and has entered the realm of chemistry. The church must therefore, take a leading part in the fight for world peace.

Sunday evening September 12th the subject will be "The most beautiful book in all the world." The minister is desirous of having every seat filled this Sunday.
